

Collier County Farmer's Markets for the 2019-20 Season

November 2015 (Edited: Sept.2019)

There are many vibrant outdoor markets throughout Collier County, each with a different personality and feel. A farmer's market is defined by the USDA as "a multi-stall market at which farmer-producers sell agricultural products, particularly fresh fruits and vegetables—but also meat products, dairy products, and/or grains—directly to the public at a central or fixed location". We have several wonderful farmer's markets in Collier County, but currently there is a greater demand than our small farms can fill so many of our outdoor markets, while wonderful events, do not fit this definition. Below is a list of farmer's markets and other outdoor markets in the county, with the times and locations.

We attempt to keep our information about the markets current, but market details are subject to irregularities and changes and should be verified with the individual market. Unless otherwise labelled, markets typically close at the end of the season (around mid-April to early May).
